Jefferson Award Winners

Diana E. Weaver

Nominated by: Irene DeMart & Susan Miller

"When we think of Diana, we're reminded of a movie that was out a few years ago, Pay It Forward. As in that film, Diana helps without being asked and without a thought of reward. With Diana, it doesn't matter what her schedule is, if you need something, she will fit you in."
- Irene DeMart

Scott Feifer

Nominated by: Amy Feifer, Dore Feifer, Lucille Powell, & Ivy Hawthorne

"While many people might get burned out or lose interest, Mr. Feifer has increased his volunteer work each year, adding new and varied sites, wanting to help as many people find their voices as possible. ...He spends countless hours each week writing personal responses to juvenile participants and incarcerated adults in his programs, hoping that the personal responses make them feel heard."
- Amy Feifer

Juanita Edrington-Grant

Nominated by: Peggy Shaw

"Juanita's vision is to provide the ex-offender an opportunity to experience a positive and productive transition back into the community, empowering them to be self-sufficient. She is accomplishing her vision through her endless hours of service, recruiting many individuals, collaborating and partnering with other organizations, and educating the public to understand the ex-offender's daily struggles and barriers in life."
- Peggy Shaw

P. Terry Baker

Nominated by: Shila Ulrich

"As a retired teacher, Terry could be doing a thousand other things, but thankfully, he has chosen to devote his time to the efforts of the Caring Cupboard. He is truly the heart of the organization and without his presence, the Caring Cupboard would be a very different place."
- Shila Ulrich

Jean Beatty

Nominated by: Betty DeLancey

"As a result of her leadership and commitment, Channels, after 20 years now includes many donors and agency partners and has distributed over 7,000,000 pounds of food to an estimated 100,000 people."
- Betty DeLancey

Wendy Sledd

Nominated by: Keith Sledd

"This volunteer laughs when she tells others that she doesn't require much sleep. But I don't think she is kidding! I don't know how she gets everything done. Her level of dedication is unmatched by anyone I have ever met and her efforts inspire everyone she meets."
- Keith Sledd
